- Take your time and enjoy the towns and villages the Great Southern Rail Trail passes through. Each have their own flavour and experiences to explore.
- Feast your eyes on the beautiful murals in Loch, Korumburra, and Leongatha.
- Catch your breath with a stop at Hilda Falls (between Loch and Korumburra).

ENJOY A JOURNEY ALONG THE RAIL TRAIL

The Great Southern Rail Trail is a gem for those seeking a blend of natural beauty, outdoor adventure and a taste of local culture. Spanning 130 kilometres from Nyora to Yarram with side trails to Port Welshpool and Port Albert, what was once Australia's most southern mainland railway line, is now a scenic escape to the southern part of Gippsland's stunning countryside. Whether you're an avid cyclist, a casual walker or a nature lover, you won't be disappointed exploring the Great Southern Rail Trail.

- Step back in time at Coal Creek — a 27-hectare site showcasing South Gippsland's heritage.
- Stroll over the suspension bridge crossing the leafy gully at Loch Memorial Reserve.
- Take a break at the Hoddle Range Lookout and soak in the amazing views over Corner Inlet towards Wilsons Promontory.
- Enjoy the serenity at Korumburra Botanic Park.

NYORA TO KORUMBURRA

Start your adventure in Nyora and enjoy a gentle, flat journey towards Loch. Village vibes are a Loch specialty, enjoy the inviting cafes, stumble across cellar doors or shop for collectables, art, homewares and gifts. Between Loch and Jeetho, enjoy a challenge like many trains did when the line was operating. You will find this section of the Trail is dotted with scenic spots, including Hilda Falls and the tiny town of Bena, which is a great spot to stop if you are travelling with children who may enjoy a break on the playground. Finishing this section in Korumburra, make sure you check out the public art and interpretive signs in the Railway Precinct and the murals in town.

- Experience the creative industries that make our region special. See if you can spot the ArtCubes, or weave into towns that brim with galleries and vibrant, toe-tapping music.
- Do a spot of bird watching at the Meeniyar Bird Hide, an oasis for water birds among the revegetated wetlands.
- Stop by the statue of Lennie Gwyther and his pony Ginger Mick in Leongatha and learn about their incredible journey.
- Discover Pearl Park in Foster, a leafy oasis with its charming bridge crossing Stockyard Creek.

KORUMBURRA TO MEENIYAN

This leg of the journey continues to guide you through the rolling hills of South Gippsland. Leongatha, home to many eateries to fuel up at before you take on the journey towards Meeniyar. The Trail to Koonwarra travels through farmland, showcasing a variety of meandering cattle from paddock to paddock. Continuing towards Meeniyar the Trail yo-yos back and forth across the highway through a series of sealed underpasses and tunnels. Stretch your legs and discover the interactive signs displaying information on local indigenous flora and fauna, as well as the Koonwarra Fossil Bed. As you cross the bridge over the Tarwin River, you'll be delighted to see Meeniyar, a town that celebrates community and kinship.

- Keep an eye out for the sculpture garden, giant fish and mullet when visiting Fish Creek.
- Check out the Foster Flora Reserve – a great place to enjoy a number of short walks.
- Stock up on farm-fresh produce or handmade wares from one of the many local markets.
- Take in the streetscape on the Toora Heritage Walk, dotted with interpretation boards that celebrate the town's history.

MEENIYAN TO FOSTER

The journey from Meeniyar to Foster is mapped out with a handful of quaint country towns. Take a breather at the Meeniyar Bird Hide, accessed from the Rail Tail, to discover an oasis of water birds among the revegetated wetlands. Travelling between Stony Creek and Buffalo, keep your eyes peeled for wallabies, echidnas and wedge-tailed eagles. Abstract sculptures constructed from wood and metal indicate your arrival into Fish Creek. A great spot to browse the speciality stores, grab a bite to eat and re-energise as you head towards one of the highest points of the Trail. Once you reach the top, follow the sign to the Hoddle Range Lookout where you will enjoy majestic views across Corner Inlet. It's then a relaxing descent as you approach Foster. The town centre is 1.5km from the Trail.

- Soak in the timeless maritime air with a stroll along the Port Welshpool and Port Albert jetties.
- Take a break from the bike seat in Port Albert and hit the Christopher Robinson Walk / Old Port Trail (6km one-way). Hugging the coastline, the walk takes in salt marshes, stands of mangroves and coastal banksia in the Nooramunga Marine and Coastal Park.
- Experience the work of world-renowned street artist Heesco Khosnaran. You can find over 20 murals on buildings, laneways, shop fronts and even a water tower in Yarram.

FOSTER TO WELSHPOOL

Leaving Foster, the Trail offers a leisurely journey with an ever-changing view towards Toora. Dairy farms, gumtree glades, sparkling rivers and rolling hills are just some of the natural wonders to be seen along the way. If you've travelled by horseback, make the most of the pony parking facilities at Sagasser Park, Toora, where you can hitch your horse. Leaving Toora, the Trail crosses over the Agnes River and weaves through historic gardens towards Welshpool. A 5km detour, and you will be welcomed by the shimmering waters of Port Welshpool. Take a stroll along the historic 800m Long Jetty before heading back to Welshpool.
